

Global Trade Tells the Story

ISM Manufacturing and World Trade

1. Reflationary pivots in 2013 & 2016 lifted global growth.
2. Another pivot was in play at the end of 2019: Fed easing, China stimulus & trade deal.
3. March 2020 lockdowns collapse world trade and the economy.
4. V-shaped recovery on extra-ordinary policy support and the expectation of learning to live with and overcoming the disease.
5. Inflection point comes when vaccines allow re-opening of the global service sectors.

Regime Change? Zero Rates Forever? Greenlight for Market Speculation?

The Biden Administration plans to send $1400 checks per person to many Americans in addition to the $600 coming to them this month.

“Neither the President-elect nor I propose this relief package without an appreciation for the country’s debt burden. But right now, with interest rates at historic lows, the smartest thing we can do is act big.”

Janet Yellen Treasury Secretary Nominee, Testimony to the U.S. Senate Finance Committee, January 18, 2021

To be fully funded by the Federal Reserve

“My economic outlook is consistent with keeping the current pace of purchases throughout the rest of this year....I think we are going to get it done. As we move through the year, I expect for those challenges to be met and for the economy to turn in a very, very impressive growth performance.”

Richard Clarida Vice Chair Federal Reserve, December 12, 2020

There may be additional risks associated with international investments. International securities may be subject to risks including, but not limited to: market/currency fluctuations, investment risks, and other risks involving foreign economic, political, monetary, taxation, auditing and/or legal factors. These risks may be magnified in emerging markets. Fixed income securities are subject to credit and interest rate risk. High yield, lower-rated, fixed income securities involve greater risk than investment-grade fixed income securities. Asset-backed, mortgage-backed or mortgage related securities are subject to additional risks such as prepayment and extension risks. High yield bonds possess greater price, volatility, illiquidity, and possibility of default. The aforementioned investments may not be suitable for everyone.

Brandywine Global believes that transactions in any option, future, commodity, or other derivative product are not suitable for all persons, and that accordingly, clients should be aware of the risks involved in trading such instruments. There may be significant risks which should be considered prior to investing. Derivatives transactions may increase liquidity risk and introduce other significant risk factors of a complex character. All securities trading, whether in stocks, options or other investment vehicles, is speculative in nature and involves substantial risk of loss.

Certain statements included in this presentation constitute forward looking statements. Forward-looking statements include statements that are predictive in nature, depend upon or refer to future events or conditions, or include words such as “expects”, “anticipates”, “plans”, “believes”, “estimates”, “intends”, “targets”, “projects”, “forecasts” or negative versions thereof and other similar expressions, or future or conditional verbs such as “may”, “will”, “should”, “would” and “could”, and similar expressions to the extent they relate to the Firm. The forward-looking statements are not historical facts but reflect the current expectations regarding future results or events. These forward-looking statements are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results or events to differ materially from current expectations. Brandywine Global’s investment process may prove incorrect, which may have a negative impact on performance.
